Application for Financial Assistance for CPT Delegations

Christian Peacemaker Teams has limited funds available to assist individuals who otherwise would not be able to participate in CPT delegations. CPT has a commitment to undoing oppressions and will give preference to applicants from communities that have been disadvantaged by racism, colonialism and other structural oppressions. CPT is not able to cover all the costs of the delegation applicant's participation and travel.

We encourage applicants for all CPT delegations to raise funds from family, friends, their religious community, local peace group, home community, etc. in order to nurture support and interest in the project of peacemaking as well as to facilitate their participation.

The application will be reviewed by the CPT Delegations Administrator and the relevant Delegation Coordinator.

Please answer the following questions to assist our process:

What is the total fundraising expectation for your participation, and what is the reduction that you are requesting? (See current delegation announcement for total fundraising expectation.)

Please list the sources of funding you are seeking from your own connections and any local contacts, and any confirmed successes.

Please share your reasons for applying for support, and how your participation will support CPT's goals for undoing oppressions in delegations. (See above for our commitment.)

What is your plan for sharing what you learn from your delegation experience, and the commitments you make, with your community and with CPT?

Submit this application by e-mail to delegations@cpt.org.
